

EARTH REGENERATION

High School Program

LITTLE PARROT FARM

The Earth Regeneration program looks through the lens of the food system to discover the disconnect between human and the natural world. Students will investigate key environmental concerns, including climate change, biodiversity loss, ocean eutrophication, & topsoil loss.

Students will engage in classroom-style lessons and hands-on farming experiences to understand how regenerative agriculture improves the environment. This is a volunteer program that is free of cost.
